The Scarsdale Procedure Committee, which administers the Scarsdale nonpartisan electoral system, has announced that the following candidates were elected from each neighborhood on November 16, 2016 to the Scarsdale Citizens Nominating Committee (CNC):

Edgewood: Ron Sannicandro and Ryan Spicer.

Fox Meadow: Marc Greenwald and Judy Wenjing Kerr.

Greenacres: Daniel Brown and Jon Leslie.

Heathcote: Laura Kaplow-Goldman and Peter Tesler.

Quaker Ridge: Michael Gorelick, Mary Beth Gose, and Ron Schulhof.

There were 321 votes cast in the election. Fox Meadow had the highest number of voters with 168 ballots cast, followed by Greenacres with 68 ballots cast, Edgewood with 37, Quaker Ridge with 24, and Heathcote with 24.

This year's eleven new CNC members will join 19 others already on the CNC serving staggered three-year terms. The CNC will have its first meeting on Sunday, December 4th, and by early February 2017 will have nominated new candidates for the office of Mayor currently held by Jonathan I. Mark and for the Scarsdale Village Board of Trustees to fill the seats currently held by William Stern, Matthew J. Callaghan, and Carl L. Finger. The new candidates for Mayor and the Board of Trustees, along with any other candidates who may choose to run, will be up for public election in March 2017.
